The Anchor began in 1887, and was first issued weekly in 1914. Covering national and campus news alike, Hope College's student-run newspaper has grown over the years to encompass over two-dozen editors, reporters, and staff. Each Wednesday throughout the academic school year (with few exceptions), the latest issue is distributed across campus. Occasionally, the volume and/or issue numbering is irregular. An index to the full collection can be found at the Joint Archives of Holland. For the most current issue, please visit The Anchor online.

Recommended Citation

Repository citation: College, Hope, "The Anchor, Volume 38.11: November 27, 1929" (1929).

https://digitalcommons.hope.edu/anchor_1929/31

Published in: The Anchor, Volume 38, Issue 11, November 27, 1929. Copyright © 1929 Hope College, Holland, Michigan.

T. Romana College was successfully closed on February 28, 2019. The Festival, which had performers coming in from all Eight states of the North East and officials from Delhi, was held at T. Romana College, Vanapa Hall and Electric Veng YMA Hall. The organisers and audience were privileged to witness performances of theatre and dance from professionals from all over the North East. The parallel programmes of a National Seminar and a Mime Workshop were also successfully concluded. Speaking at the close of the festival, Art & Culture Director commended T. Romana College for their efficiency a